Dear Andy,

Congratulations on completing the Boeing Company Aerospace Accelerated program for exceptional start-ups, striving to advance the future of aerospace. Having been accepted on the programme, you have received equity investment from Boeing.

You also have access to Boeing's industry leading strategists and other technical experts from industry, all of whom support you in developing APC to become the global 'go to' career development, pilot training, and employee on-boarding location for aspirant pilots, Flight Training Organisations (FTO) and Airlines.

Boeing has invested in APC because your processes will drive diversity, quality and safety in the airline industry. APC's FTO Quality Assurance Review dovetails perfectly with the new Boeing Global Services, Operator Evaluation process. As an equity investor, Boeing will support APC with mentoring, FTO and Airline networking, and content for your website.

Boeing is happy to support your business and to recommend your ATO and Airline Partnership program to any aviation organisation, FTO or Airline.

We are delighted to have you included in our investment portfolio, and, subject to due diligence and final business unit sign off, look forward to a further successful investment in APC's current Seed Round.

We look forward to working with you and the APC team over the coming months and years.
